Yes
No

3. I will read out a list of statements on the 2nd draft constitution for the United Republic of Tanzania. Which of the following statements best defines you? (READ STATEMENTS) Select all that apply

You have read the 2 nd draft constitution document
You have read some of the details of the 2 nd draft constitution from the Newspapers & the Internet
You have listened or watched a discussion of the 2 nd draft constitution on TV or Radio or from a gathering
You have done none of these activities.

4. Can you identify the remaining steps in the constitutional review process? (1st Step - Constituent assembly and 2nd Step - National referendum)

Yes both steps
Yes one of the two steps
No

5. The constituent assembly is made up of all of the members of the United Republic of Tanzania parliament, Zanzibar House of Representatives, and 201 members from various groups in the society (Such as; Civil Society Groups, Faith Based groups, Political Parties, Groups people with special needs, work associations and other groups of interest in the society). This constituent assembly will finalize the draft constitution. Do you believe that the constituent assembly will adequately represents all Tanzanians in this process?

Yes
No

If yes, why? [DO NOT READ OUT]

The ruling party will use their majority to ensure the will of people is reflected Having many Zanzibaris will ensure fairness for both sides
Having opposition parties will ensure consensus
Having civil society will ensure all groups of Tanzanians are represented
Having many elites from society will ensure skilled people finalize the draft
Having such a large constituent assembly ensures that all voices will be heard in the debate

If no, why not? [DO NOT READ OUT]

Ruling party will hijack the process to push their position
Parliamentarians/Representatives will look out for their own interests, not national interests
Having many Zanzibaris gives them too much power
Having opposition parties will derail the process

Civil society members will look out for their own interests rather than citizen's interests
Having so many elites will lead to a constitution not for ordinary Tanzanians
Having such a large constituent assembly means no consensus can be reached

6. Which of the following groups of people do you believe will best represent your interests in the constitutional assembly? ROTATE STARTING POINT, only one choice

Civil Society Groups
Faith Based groups
Political Parties
Groups of people with special needs
Work associations
