In accordance with our open data commitment, this note sets out the files and documents associated with the release of the above data.

The data made available here remains the property of Uwezo and is provided for non-profit, research purposes only. Commercial or for-profit uses are strictly prohibited without prior consent. Where the data is employed to inform published research reports, due reference to Uwezo should be made in the text.

We advise all potential and effective users of the data to read the data use agreement found below. Please note that all data is provided in raw form and on an “as is” basis. This means we provide absolutely no warranty as to the underlying data quality or its fitness for purpose. We also cannot provide any form of follow-up service to this data release, and therefore will not reply to specific questions from individual researchers or organizations as regards the origin or uses of the data.

To facilitate public use of the data, a minimal cleaning and verification process has been applied. Users should be aware that due to missing values on some test scores, imputed values are also made available. These are denoted by the name of the test score variable followed by the suffix “_imputed”; where test scores are not missing the same imputed variables also include the observed values.
