Commented [L1]: More explanation is needed for the respondents to understand the questions and provide the answers.

Commented [NN2R1]: Agreed. When the question is asked the responses provided are either an action should be taken against the individual or no action is taken. The respondents don't relate the action to either followers who comment or people who share the information. I am proposing that we add a question to create a scenario of all the players in the act to engage the peoples' perception on who should be punished for the act
